

Letter from the Editor-in-Chief

This is the second issue of Acta Neurologica Belgica 2002, the international peer-reviewed Belgian neurological journal. One of the missions of the journal is to publish recent scientific work from Belgian centers of excellence in neurology, neuroscience and related areas of interest.

In this issue you will find a new section that presents recent scientific work such as doctoral theses in neurology, neurosciences and related areas. Each thesis or project will be presented by means of a summary paper and a short curriculum vitae of the investigator.

I invite all readers and colleagues to submit relevant work from academical departments, hospitals and universities in Belgium. I hope this new section in Acta Neurologica Belgica will contribute to the exchange of ideas within the neurological world. I also wish you delightful holidays.
